

BENEPACK - Inventory Controller

Company

Benepack Belgium nv is part of Chinese parent company COFCO Group. COFCO is a leading supplier of agro products. It is the largest food processing company in China with operations in over 140 countries worldwide.

Benepack Belgium is a startup and the first company in Belgium to produce innovative, sustainable aluminum packaging for the beverage industry, with world-class equipment and a strict quality control system. Currently, Benepack is installing a second highly automated production line.

Function

As Inventory Controller, your main focus is to analyze, concretize and advise on objectives in the context of the various logistics and stock technical processes of our warehouse. You are part of the logistics team and report directly to the Logistics Manager. Your tasks will mainly consist of:

- You will supervise periodic stock counts in our own warehouse, but also in external warehouses.
- You analyze inventory variances.
- You are responsible for finding the cause of inventory discrepancies.
- You are SAP Key-User for the inventory.
- You will be the bridge in stock between the logistics department and the finance department.
- You will contribute to the construction of the logistics processes.
- You are able to build our inventory department from the ground up.
- You can work autonomously.

Profile

- You have a Bachelors degree preferably in a logistics field.
- You have at least an initial experience in inventory management.
- You have a strong affinity for logistics.
- You have strong analytical skills and also know how to hold your own communicatively.
- You have a proactive attitude and are good at turning your insights into practical ideas.
- You speak fluent English. Knowledge of Dutch and/or Chinese is a plus but not a must.
- Excel holds no secrets for you. You are blindly familiar with it.
- Knowledge of SAP is an absolute plus.
- You work accurately and have an eye for detail.

- You want to work in a multicultural environment and know how to get things done.

Offering

- You will be joining a rapidly growing and dynamic company.
- You will be part of a start-up (international) multinational company.
- You will have a challenging and varied job where no two days are the same.
- You will work in a congestion-free environment.
- You will receive a competitive salary complemented by attractive fringe benefits.
- You will work full time on a day shift basis.