Our company:

Sinotrans is one of the largest integrated logistics service providers in the world and has just started its development in Liège airport, Belgium. As a partner of Alibaba, we will help them to make this city a major logistics center in Europe. To carry out this great project, we must recruit talented young people with the ideal mindset to become members of our team and collaborate with us to develop Liège.

Our business covers basic services such as shipping; air, road and rail transportation; international express delivery; warehousing and distribution; terminal services, etc. In Liège, we currently focus on the development of air transport as well as warehousing and distribution. Our company has a full range of strategic assets, pays attention to building an integrated marketing system and a standardized operating platform, establishes an integrated model of cooperation and division of labor, and relies on air cargo systems and strategic assets. Our company has already established an integrated platform of logistics services.

Your mission:

On one hand, our company wants to recruit more talented candidates to become our employees and on the other hand, this cooperation can also offer students, future graduates or young workers the opportunity to enter the labor market to learn, practice and improve.

During their contract with us, candidates will not only evolve in a dynamic and exciting work environment within a growing industry, but they will also have the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the documentation, the different processes and the key notions of logistics, so as to lay the foundations for their future development in this sector. Applicants with a solid experience in logistics are also welcomed to help us in our enterprise and can thus continue to improve their skills.

Candidate profile:

We are looking for a motivated and organized candidate having a good team spirit in order to work in our offices and/or in our warehouse. An excellent command of French and English is essential; speaking Chinese is an asset.
